

MUSIC LICENSE AGREEMENT

This Music License Agreement is a written agreement between Ben Melton in this case referred to as (I or Me), and Smash Keyboard Studios.

I grant Smash Keyboard Studios a non-exclusive license to use all Music Loops and Sound Effects (SFX) created by Ben Melton for use solely within the 2025 Hack 'n' Slash Game.

This Agreement shall be in effect from 22nd February 2025 and is unlikely to be terminated,

I or Smash Keyboard Studios have the right to terminate this Agreement upon written notice should something drastic happen between Myself or another member of Smash Keyboard Studios, which is unlikely, but should termination happen then the music must be returned to its rightful owner, in this case me.

The entire Smash Keyboard Studios Team does not have the permission to sell, sub-license or personally use ANY of the music loops or SFX, this is to be used in the Hack'n' Slash game ONLY.

I also disclose that the Music does not include other people musical property such as non royalty free samples or their own music, it does include some royalty free kick drum and snare samples (I have double checked this before writing this document)

If there were any legal complications such as "This music is mine it can not for be used in this project" e.g arise from the use of the Music and/or loops I have made, I also agree to bear full responsibility and to get Smash Keyboard Studios out of said legal complication, should there be any.

I or Smash Keyboard Studios have the right to terminate this Agreement upon written notice should something drastic happen between Myself or another member of the Studios, which is unlikely.

Any changes or modifications to this Agreement will be spoken about to all those relevant.
